

Firemen's Association of the State of New York

Fire Safety Educator of the Year Award

Overview

The Firemen's Association of the State of New York presents an award to a volunteer firefighter in recognition of his or her exceptional efforts in presenting fire prevention and life safety education to the residents of New York State.

Criteria

The award is presented annually to a New York State volunteer firefighter for his or her commitment to the field of fire prevention and life safety education. Criteria for this award include:

- Innovative ways of presenting fire prevention and life safety education to the public
 - » Overall program content
 - » The program's impact on the public and its success
 - » Duration of the program
- Possible participation in FASNY's Fire Prevention and Life Safety Contests

These criteria are not intended to be all-inclusive. Other factors may be considered if the committee feels they meet the intent of this award.

Nominations

Nominations for the FASNY Fire Safety Educator of the Year Award may be submitted annually by a volunteer fire company or department, volunteer county fire association, sectional association or chiefs association.

The nominating letter must be submitted on official stationery and signed by the chief, president or secretary of the nominating organization.

Nominations must be postmarked by February 28th.

Letters of support and any other submitted materials accompanying the nomination, such as examples of curriculum, will become the property of FASNY.

The award winner will be notified by May 5th.

The presentation of this award will be made at a local ceremony.
